

1-1-2009

Finding Frequently Used Law Books in Pence Law Library

Pence Law Library, Washington College of Law

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.wcl.american.edu/research_guides

Recommended Citation

Pence Law Library, Washington College of Law, "Finding Frequently Used Law Books in Pence Law Library" (2009). Research Guides. Paper 4.
http://digitalcommons.wcl.american.edu/research_guides/4

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Pence Law Library at Digital Commons @ American University Washington College of Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Research Guides by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ American University Washington College of Law. For more information, please contact fbrown@wcl.american.edu.

Finding Frequently Used Law Books in the Pence Law Library

Federal Codes, Reporters and Digests. These include all Supreme Court Reporters, Federal Reporters, and Federal Supplements, as well as the Code of Federal Regulations, Federal Register, and USCCAN. They are in the Federal Materials section on the first floor.

State Codes, Reporters, and Digests. These are in the State Codes & Materials section on the second floor, directly at the top of the stairs. They are arranged alphabetically by state, and include state practice materials and state Jurisprudence sets, where available.

Regional Reporters and Digests. These are located in the Regional Reporters & Digests section on the second floor. Decennial Digests are also located in this section.

Local Materials. DC, Maryland, and Virginia state materials are in the Local Materials section on the first floor (near the restrooms).

Am. Jur. and C.J.S. American Jurisprudence (Am. Jur.) and Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.) are located in the Legal Encyclopedias section on the second floor, along the wall opposite the stairs. They contain general discussions of broad areas of the law, with cites to illustrative cases. They are national in scope, drawing on cases from all jurisdictions. Some states, including California, New York, and Ohio, have their own Jurisprudence sets. These are shelved with the state materials.

A.L.R. These are located in the A.L.R. section on the first floor, along the wall by the Circulation Desk. These contain scholarly treatment of a variety of legal topics, with citations to relevant cases. They tend to be more thorough and more narrowly focused than AM. JUR. and C.J.S. A.L.R. FED. covers federal law; all other volumes cover state law.

Restatements. The most recent versions (all topics) are located in the Restatements section of the Reserve Room, on the first floor. Older versions (all topics) are in the stacks on the second floor, located at call number KF395.

Periodicals. Hardbound law journals are located in the Periodicals section on the second floor. They are organized alphabetically by title. Recent issues of those journals are located in the Reserve Room, on the first floor. They are also organized alphabetically.