EDITOR'S WELCOME

Dear Readers,

I would like to welcome you all to Volume Seven of the Legislation and Policy Brief. Inside are three brilliant articles focusing on topical legal issues. Carlos Garcia's article highlights the need for federal disclosure and fraud protection in the workplace. Mr. Garcia's article is followed by Lisa Lindhorst's article, which calls for an amendment to clarify RICO's extraterritorial application. Finally, Dylan A. Consla authored an article discussing the judicial expansion of the first-to-file bar in the False Claims Act. I would like to thank the authors for all their hard work and patience throughout the editing process.

I would also like to thank the LPB staff for their hard work editing the articles for Volume Seven. I would like to personally thank Tara Schonhoff, Mahira Kahn, and Lauren Swanson for their work leading the editing process. I would also like to thank Nor Powanda for all his hard work finalizing Volume Seven. In addition, I would like to thank Natasha Bull for her efforts selecting the three articles published inside.

Finally, I would like to thank Philip Stevens and Rachael Stelly for their work maintaining the LPB blog. I would also like to thank Alex Baptiste and Nor Powanda for their help in publishing Volume Six of the Legislation and Policy Brief. I would like to close by thanking the LPB staff for their effort this year. I am truly proud of everyone.

Best,

John Spellman
